Attendance Requirements

Additional School of Education attendance requirements

It is expected that any student enrolled in an EDST course with the School of Education will make a commitment to their learning and attend all classes in full where content is delivered in a face-to-face mode except in certain circumstances where absence is due to illness, misadventure or unforeseen circumstances beyond the student's control. A minimum attendance requirement of 80% is required for each course. In certain circumstances, a student may miss up to 20% of a course without formal application and up to 33% of a course with formal documentation (sent via email to course convenor) providing all the requirements detailed below are met. Students not meeting the attendance requirements outlined above will be awarded an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) for that course regardless of their performance in the assessment tasks or other requirements for the course.

For further information on Education course attendance requirements, please refer to the respective EDST Moodle module(s).

Academic Information

All students must make a valid attempt at all assessments in order to pass the course.

For essential student information relating to: requests for extension; review of marks; occupational health and safety; examination procedures; special consideration in the event of illness or misadventure; student equity and disability; and other essential academic information, see <https://www.arts.unsw.edu.au/current-students/academic-information/protocols-guidelines/>

Summary of the Course

This course is an introduction to the key concepts and issues surrounding gifted education. Through a mixture of online lectures, self-directed activities, discussion forums and self-directed reading, you will gain information and skills relating to the: (a) definitions, conceptions, and models of giftedness, including those commonly used in Australian schools, (b) the cognitive and affective characteristics of gifted students (and their differences to the cognitive and affective characteristics of non-gifted students), (c) the major principles and instruments used in the identification of gifted students, (d) diverse groups of gifted students, including twice exceptional students and exceptionally gifted students, and (e) creativity.

At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to

1. Identify and evaluate the current issues that influence the education of intellectually gifted students.
2. Discuss ways in which intellectually gifted students differ from their age peers in their cognitive and socio-affective development.
3. Assess the causes of academic underachievement in gifted students.
4. Examine some of the common myths associated with the learning needs of gifted students.
5. Discuss ways in which teachers may be able to identify gifted students.

Teaching Strategies

Teaching strategies

The teaching strategies to be used in the course will comprise a mixture of online lectures, self-directed activities, participation in online discussion forums, and self-directed reading that reflect evidence-based teaching practices.

Rationale

The content of the course provides you with an overview of the major issues relevant to the education of gifted and talented students. The teaching approach attempts to actively engage you in discussion of current theory and practice, and assists you in learning new information and skills related to key concepts in gifted education. You will be required to take responsibility for your own learning in this course.

Australian Professional Graduate Teaching Standards

| Standard | Description |
|----------|---|
| 1.2.3 | Expand understanding of how students learn using research and workplace knowledge. |
| 1.5.3 | Evaluate learning and teaching programs, using student assessment data, that are differentiated for the specific learning needs of students across the full range of abilities. |
| 3.3.3 | Support colleagues to select and apply effective teaching strategies to develop knowledge, skills, problem solving and critical and creative thinking |
| 3.6.2 | Evaluate personal teaching and learning programs using evidence, including feedback from students and student assessment data, to inform planning. |
| 6.2.2 | Participate in learning to update knowledge and practice, targeted to professional needs and school and/or system priorities. |
| 6.4.2 | Undertake professional learning programs designed to address identified student learning needs. |

Assessment

General assessment information may be accessed in Moodle.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Reflection

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Task 1 - Prepare a paper that provides a reflection on gifted students/gifted education with reference to the literature. Students will receive written feedback within 10 days of submission

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Advocacy article

Start date: Not Applicable

Details: Task 2 - Prepare an article about a myth or misconception in gifted education with reference to the literature. Students will receive written feedback within 10 days of submission This is the final assessment task.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Late Assessment Penalties

An assessed task is deemed late if it is submitted after the specified time and date as set out in the course Learning Management System (LMS).

The late penalty is the loss of 5% of the total possible marks for the task for each day or part thereof the work is late. Lateness will include weekends and public holidays. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted fourteen (14) days after the due date will be marked and feedback provided but no mark will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component, a student will be deemed to have met that requirement. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted twenty-one (21) days after the due date will not be accepted for marking or feedback and will receive no mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will automatically fail the course.

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

- * Prevent you from completing a course requirement,
- * Keep you from attending an assessable activity,
- * Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,

* Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-semester examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website:

<https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration>

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit. It also applies to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without referencing and a student's own analysis to bring the material together.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/>). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose

- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.

Course Evaluation and Development

Feedback will be sought from students using multiple channels (e.g., live video chat sessions, email, formal course evaluations). Such feedback will be regularly assessed to make any necessary changes either during the running of the course, or in future offerings of the course.

Some of the changes introduced into the course based on feedback received from students in previous years include a reduction to the number of compulsory readings and the making of refinements to the assessment tasks.
