SUMMARY AND AIMS OF COURSE
In this course, you will develop an understanding of research in education. This will be achieved through exploring different research traditions, research ethics, the research process including issues of validity and reliability, a variety of both qualitative and quantitative research approaches and methodologies used in educational research, the management and analysis of data, and critical thinking and different genres of writing education research and findings. The course will prepare you for conducting your own research project including issues of identifying and formulating a research question, selecting and applying appropriate research approaches and methods of inquiry and in presenting the results of your research.

THE MAIN WAYS IN WHICH THE COURSE HAS CHANGED SINCE LAST TIME AS A RESULT OF STUDENT FEEDBACK:

▪ This is a new course for 2019

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Assessment: Students must pass ALL assessments to pass the course. Only by passing all assessments can the AITSL Professional Graduate Teaching Standards be achieved.

Attendance: It is expected that any student enrolled in an EDST course with the School of Education will make a commitment to their learning and attend all classes in full where content is delivered in a face-to-face mode except in certain circumstances where absence is due to illness, misadventure or unforeseen circumstances beyond the student's control. A minimum attendance requirement of 80% is required for each course. In certain circumstances, a student may miss up to 20% of a course without formal documentation and up to 33% of a course with formal documentation (sent via email to course convenor) providing all the requirements detailed below are met. Students not meeting the attendance requirements outlined above will be awarded an Unsatisfactory Fail (UF) for that course regardless of their performance in the assessment tasks or other requirements for the course.

Please note the following attendance expectations, requirements, and consequences:
- A minimum attendance requirement of 80% of all scheduled classes (i.1. lectures, tutorials, workshops, seminars) for the subject in which you are enrolled is required by UNSW
- Attendance in person is the only option for tutorials, seminars, and workshops.
- Where attendance is recorded for a scheduled class (i.e. lectures, tutorials, workshops, seminars) either by electronic means or via an attendance register it is the responsibility of the student to make sure they successfully record their attendance by providing all the details required.

It is the responsibility of the student to catch up on any learning missed due to absences.

The School of Education upholds the UNSW attendance policy and is in accordance with the Arts and Social Sciences guidelines and expectations. 1. RATIONALE FOR THE INCLUSION OF CONTENT AND TEACHING APPROACH

Teaching strategies: The course is delivered online and provides a flexible learning environment for students. Within this learning environment students will engage with course material through online lectures that incorporate material presented by a variety of experts in education. Online weekly activities will use a range of teaching strategies to encourage students to engage in critical thinking and problem solving in the application of a range of research methods in the investigation of educational contexts Online discussion forums will allow students to engage in collaborative inquiry, challenging and refining ideas and sharing current practice. Self-directed reading will broaden student understanding of the range of research methods that can be applied to investigate educational contexts. The preparation of written assignments will draw on student reflection of a range of research methods appropriate in investigations of educational contexts.

Rationale: The course is delivered online to provide you with flexibility to engage in individual and collaborative inquiry. The teaching approach is informed by recent research and practice on student thinking and learning and effective teaching which has emphasised the importance of the student perspective.

The online activities and lectures have been selected and designed to scaffold you in the writing of this task so please refer back to each module's readings and resources. It is expected that you will read beyond the readings supplied for this course. You can (and are expected) to re-use readings you have used in other courses in MEd or MEd Lead, but please remember that you cannot recycle your own writing as submitted for other assignments in this degree at UNSW or any other degree/course you have taken, either here or elsewhere (this is called 'self-plagiarism', and you can find information about it here: https://student.unsw.edu.au/plagiarism). You may very well also have to read beyond the materials from other courses, and to help you do this, the UNSW library offers plenty of resources – please see information here: http://info.library.unsw.edu.au
