

School of Psychology Application Guide – Master of Psychology

APPLICATIONS OPEN: 1 AUGUST

DEADLINE: 31 OCTOBER

- (1) Submit your application directly to UNSW using the Apply Online service. Listed below are requirements specific to a Psychology application.
 - a. A PDF copy of your completed Supplementary Application Form;
 - b. Evidence of enrolment in¹ – or official completion of – a four-year APAC-accredited sequence in psychology (or international equivalent);
 - c. A copy of your CV; and
 - d. A copy of your APS assessment letter².

A complete set of supporting documentation must be submitted to Admissions by the application deadline (31 October) or the application will be deemed unsuccessful.

- (2) Receive an application acknowledgement email from UNSW Admissions.

Applications with a complete set of supporting documentation will be sent to the School for further assessment (Step 3).
Incomplete applications will be placed on hold by Admissions until 31 October. A complete set of supporting documentation must be submitted by 31 October or the application will be deemed unsuccessful.

- (3) Arrange to share your two references with UNSW via the HODSPA Reference Request System, a completely separate process to using Apply Online. The School will only consider applications where two completed references have been shared with UNSW via the HODSPA system.

The School will determine if you meet the minimum eligibility requirements for the program.

- a. Requirements met: Your application will be considered by the relevant Selection Committee/s (Step 4).
- b. Requirements not met: Admissions will email you a formal application outcome.

- (4) Once the application deadline (31 October) passes, each Selection Committee will commence shortlisting³. Applications without a complete set of supporting documentation at this point will not be considered. Due to the volume of applications received, feedback will not be available for applicants that were not shortlisted.

¹ e.g., a recent transcript, online record of results, or enrolment letter which clearly indicates your student ID and program details

² This is only required for applicants with completed international psychology qualifications.

³ If you have multiple preferences you will be assessed for each simultaneously.

UNSW
SYDNEY

(5) Shortlisted applicants will be invited to participate in an interview (Clinical) or/and an Assessment Centre (Forensic). The Forensic Assessment Centre must be attended in person, under normal circumstances⁴, but virtual interviews are possible for the Clinical program. These activities are typically held in late November/early December.

(6) Interview/Assessment Centre outcome

Successful: The School will call and/or email you to offer you a place. You will be expected to accept or decline the place by a nominated deadline. If you accept the place, you will receive a formal Letter of Offer from Admissions.

Unsuccessful: The School will email you to advise the application outcome. Formal correspondence from Admissions will follow in due course.

The bulk of formal outcomes are typically sent between late November and January of the following year, and Letters of Offer are prioritised. If you do not receive an invitation to attend an interview or Assessment Centre then, unfortunately, your application cannot be successful.

PROGRAM QUOTAS:

A set number of places will be available for each program each year. It may be that an otherwise eligible applicant cannot be offered a place due to this quota restriction.

COMBINED PROGRAM:

Should you wish to be considered for both a stand-alone Master and a Combined program you must submit two separate applications (one for each type – Postgraduate Coursework and Postgraduate Research). To demonstrate: if a research application does not exist, an offer for a research program cannot be made.

Please submit questions about the application process or requirements here, and indicate that you would like your enquiry to be directed to the School of Psychology.

⁴ Should COVID-19 restrictions be in place the Assessment Centre will be run virtually.